Bruce Woodruff, town planner, read the Capital Improvement Program Report to the board and the members of the public watching from home.

Larry Brown explained that by planning early and replacing department apparatuses before they break can have significant savings for the community. Matt Morrill brought up the point that the police chief wanted to remove the taser line from the CIP proposal because some of the current equipment is failing. Bruce recommended that the board keep this line in the proposal because if for some reason the department is unable to purchase these tasers due to budget constraints there needs to be a backup.
